§ 1 Subject of the Contract

(1) The subject of the contract is the study programme of the professional distance-learning programme: Master Distance Learning Programme International Logistics and Trade.

(2) The study programme is an offer of Wismar University - University of Applied Sciences: Technology, Business and Design, and is implemented in terms of organisation by the Wismar International Graduation Services (WINGS GmbH).

(3) The study programme and the exams are conducted on the basis of existing studies and the examination regulations for the distance-learning programme Master Distance Learning Programme International Logistics and Trade. Further regulations can be found in the respective ordinances of the University of Wismar.

§ 2 Beginning and Probable Duration of the Distance Study Programme

(1) The starting time chosen by students is to be taken from the application for admission to distance education (point B).

(2) The programme of study takes as its standard period of study 4 or 5 semesters or academic half-years, depending on your individual credentials.

(3) The course will only take place at the desired location when at least 15 participants at that site have enrolled.

§ 3 Structure of Distance Education and the Location, Duration and Frequency of the Accompanying Teaching

The study programme is to entail accompanying modules in the form internet based online modules supported by online web seminars as well as seminar-like face-to-face lessons. The face-to-face lessons are to be carried out on one weekend (2-3 days) at the end of every distance-learning phase and cover the subject area being taught during the respective semester.

DISTANCE-LEARNING CONTRACT

§ 5 Fees and Payment Maturities

(1) The total consideration for the standard study period (4 Semesters) of distance education amounts to EUR 10,800.00 i. e. per semester EUR 2,700.00 if the application for admission is submitted for the winter semester 2020/21 and EUR 11,800.00 i.e. per semester EUR 2,950.00 if the application for admission is submitted for a later study period. The fee includes EUR 69.00 as compensation for management services provided by the Hochschule Wismar. The 5 semester option will charge one additional semester fee. This includes the study materials, catering during the face-to-face lessons, the care and supervision, the conducting of the face-to-face lessons, the evaluation of the exams and the enrolment costs.

(2) For each additional semester spent over the normal period of study, the following percentage of the total semester fee will be charged:

- No incomplete examinations except for the final paper: 30%
- In case of other incomplete examinations: 100%

(3) Fee payments are to be made, in partial instalments covering a period of three months each, to the following account:

Sparkasse Mecklenburg-Nordwest IBAN: DE 20 1405 1000 1000 3059 17 BIC: NOLA DE 21 WIS
Wings creditors ID: DE 36 ZZZ 00000 809 271

For the fee payments, no later than two weeks before the semester begins, the students each receive an invoice specifying the actual payment dates.

(4) In case of delayed payment of the semester fee, enrolment / response may be denied. Regardless of enrolment / response, outstanding bills from the distance-learning contract remain. This does not apply if a student cannot continue studying because of a "failed exam."

(5) According to the agreed-upon rates, the monthly payment semester fee amounts to 1/6 of the respective semester fee in addition to a one-time processing fee of EUR 100.00 per semester. The instalment payment will be agreed upon separately.

(6) In case of any agreement regarding payment of the semester fee per the SEPA direct debit scheme, WINGS GmbH is authorised to collect payments by direct debit. At the same time, the credit institution of the students is instructed to honour the debits drawn by the Wings GmbH from the students' account. The direct debit order is issued by the student separately.

Note: The student may, within eight weeks, beginning with the debit date, request a refund of the amount paid. The agreed-upon conditions of his or her contract with the credit institution apply to this transaction.

§ 6 Additional Services

(1) No further special services are included in the basic fee and will be charged separately by the WINGS GmbH. A listing of each item can be found in tariff provisions of the contract (Appendix).

(2) Travel costs to the face-to-face lessons shall be paid and organised individually. The costs incurred by the use of means of distance communication, will be borne by the participant.

§ 7 Payment Default

In case of default, the WINGS GmbH calculates interest at the rate of 5% over the individual base rate. In addition, the debtor is responsible for the resulting reminder and processing charges. These are shown separately.

§ 8 Minimum Term of the Contract and Cancellation Conditions

(1) The contract has a minimum term of six months. It may be cancelled - with a notice period of six weeks - by the student without giving any reasons until the end of the first academic half-year after the contract has been signed. After the first half-year of studies, the student can cancel the contract at any time, but he/she must give three-months' notice. The right of WINGS GmbH and / the students to cancel the agreement for good cause remains untouched.

(2) The cancellation must be sent to the WINGS GmbH in writing.

(3) In the case of cancellation, the student must pay a part of the total fee that corresponds to the services provided by the WINGS GmbH, during the completed term of the contract. To this end, the semester fee will be converted into an average daily rate, and the sum of the average daily rates accrued during the semester, including those rates arising from the mandatory notice period, will be calculated together. The amount may not, however, surpass the price of a semester fee for each semester. An overpaid semester fee will be refunded.

§ 9 Withdrawal of the Student

Within 14 days after receipt of the first delivery of study material, the student can cancel his / her contract with WINGS GmbH, Philipp-Müller-Str. 12 / 23966 Wismar. In this case, the study material is to be sent back unused to the WINGS GmbH within two weeks. According to the requirements of the law for the protection of participants in distance-learning (FernUSG), attention is particularly drawn to the right to withdraw following this agreement.

§ 10 Obligation of the Student to Disclose Information

The participant is required to immediately notify the WINGS GmbH of a change of address or a change of name.

§ 11 Severability Clause

(1) Should any provision of this agreement be legally invalid, this shall not affect the validity of the remaining provisions; and the invalid provision will hereby be replaced by a valid provision that comes as close as possible to the object and purpose of the invalidated provision.

(2) With the signing of this contract, the student declares himself or herself in agreement with the terms of the contract regarding participation in the desired distance-learning course according to the applicable study and examination regulations and other provisions of the University of Wismar. A copy of this deed is to be handed over

Cancellation procedure according to § 4 Fernunterrichtsschutzgesetz (FernUSG), § 355 Bürgerliches Gesetzbuch (BGB)

Withdrawal rights

You have the right to cancel this contract, without giving any reason, within 14 days. This cancellation period of 14 days begins when you have, or a third party which you have recognised as such and who is not the promoter has taken the first set of distance education material into their possession. In order to exercise your right to cancel this contract, you have to inform us, WINGS - Wismar International Graduation Services GmbH (Philipp-Müller-Straße 12, 23966 Wismar, tel: +49 (03841) 753-7224), fax: +49 (03841) 753-7296; email: office@wings.hs-wismar.de) about your decision to cancel this contract in an unambiguous manner (e.g. a letter sent via post, fax or email). You can use the attached cancellation form for this; however, it is not mandatory to use the form. In order to comply with the time limit of the cancellation period, it is sufficient if you send the notice about your wish to cancel before the expiration of this cancellation period.

Consequences of the cancellation

Upon cancellation of the contract, we are required within 14 days upon receipt of your notice to reimburse all payments we have received from you, including delivery costs (excluding any additional costs that may have been occurred due to choosing an alternative method of delivery rather than the economical, standard delivery which we offer). For the repayment, we will employ the same payment method that is used for the original transaction, except in the case that another agreement is made with you. Under no circumstances will you be charged a fee for this repayment. We can withhold the repayment until we have received the returned course material or until we have received proof that you have dispatched the material, depending on which we receive earlier. You are to ensure a prompt return of the distance education material, either by handing the material over or sending it to us, within 14 days of informing us about the cancellation of the contract. The deadline is maintained if you send the material before the end of the 14-day time limit. You are responsible for covering the direct costs for the return of the distance education material. In the event of a loss of value of the material, you will only be held financially responsible if an examination of this loss with regard to the condition, the quality and the functionality of the distance education material attributes it to inappropriate use on your behalf.

Application for recognition of additional benefits for applicants with a first higher education qualification giving less than 210 credit points

In accordance with the requirements for the accreditation of Bachelor and Master study programmes the academic degree "MBA" can only be awarded if at least 300 credit points are reached according to the ECTS.

The Master distance course MBA International Logistics and Trade conveys 90 credit points according to ECTS.

If you have less than 210 credit points on your first professionally qualifying university degree for example, completed a six-semester bachelor's programme with 180 credit points, you can acquire the missing credit points in various ways. One possibility is the execution of additional modules, another is the recognition of study results from a previous study, or the recognition of relevant professional experience of at least 20 weeks.

Please make a binding decision for one of the options listed below according to § 4 paragraph 3 of the examination and study regulations for the Master's distance course MBA International Logistics and Trade. A combination or Cumulation of credit points is not possible.

[] 1. Providing additional study and examination results

Until the admission to the Master thesis, I would like to earn another 30 credit points via the optional course semester or comparable study and examination achievements.

The standard period of study is extended according to the additional credits to be proven to 5 semesters maximum. The selection of the compulsory elective modules to be taken is decided by the Examination Board on the basis of a proposal from the candidates in consultation with the Head of

[] 2. Recognition of relevant professional experience

I apply for the recognition of competences acquired in professional practice after graduation from my first university degree of at least 20 weeks as a study-equivalent achievement (please attach supporting documents).

In order to be recognised as study-equivalent achievements, competences from a qualified professional experience, which has an academic degree on Bachelor level are required. Recognition can only be granted if the practical professional experience the skills acquired can be proven to the Examination Board. The proof can be through written documentation and supplementary services, such as elaborations, project work reports or similar documents. Furthermore internal publications are presented to demonstrate the acquired competences. These are available on request to explain in a technical discussion to the examination board.
